

The Four Stages of Our Executive Coaching Program

Discovery:

The process begins with a 360° assessment of the leader to discover their strengths and uncover their weaker competencies.

Application:

Then, through weekly one-on-one coaching sessions, we discuss situations they're dealing with and begin strategizing more effective approaches to their challenges.

Refinement:

As our work continues, we refine how they interact throughout the organization, helping them improve their effectiveness and their influence.

Mastery:

Over the course of our coaching sessions (typically 6 -12 months), they continue to improve their effectiveness by improving all their leadership competencies.
